

The Weekly Argus.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., SEPT. 29, 1893.

THE INFAMOUS BARGAIN.

It has been proven time and again that the only motive that prompted the tariff legislation of the Fifty-first Congress—the McKinley bill—was to fulfill a corrupt bargain by which the Republican party and the protected industries expected to profit at the expense of the people.

It was in short the consummation of a colossal bargain, by which for the contribution of enormous sums by the Eastern industries to help return the Republicans to power in 1888, the Republican party was to give the manufacturers higher protection to quicker enrich them regardless of how much it robbed the common masses of the people.

How well the infamous bargain succeeded Harrison's election proved, but how severely this damnable betrayal of the people was condemned, the Congressional revolution of 1890 is sufficient evidence.

The Republican party is attempting to perpetuate its shameful purchased and fraudulent tenure of office again this year by the same tactics, but they were unearched, exposed and routed in 1890, and they will be everlastingly defeated in November.

The honest voters of the land, the "common masses of the common people," who pay these ruinous levies to sustain Republicans and enrich corrupting manufacturers, will place the heavy heel of rebuke on their necks in November.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATES.

What States will Cleveland carry in November? That's an easy question.

And the answer is easy, too. Cleveland will carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Indiana, Wisconsin, at least six Congressional Districts in Michigan and the Solid South.

Yes! That's what we said—the Solid South.

According to a statistician in the New Orleans Picayune, the amount of gold annually lost in the United States is something appalling. Of the total quantity dug from our mines since 1849, no less than $741,000,000 worth has utterly disappeared. This does not include any part of the gold which has been coined, exported, manufactured into jewelry, or otherwise utilized. The $741,000,000 have been swallowed up and lost from mortal ken. The writer conjectures that a good part of it has disappeared in shipwrecks, and a much greater lies buried or hidden by misers; but whatever the case may be, there the missing millions are—or, rather, are not. Either the eminent statistician is mistaken or the Billion Dollar Congress got away with more money than the books show.

HARRIS' only allusion to monopoly, in his letter of acceptance, was drawn very mild; "I regret that he is not kind and considerate and that he takes too large a share of the profits." This is in sharp contrast with Cleveland's course. He denounced the monstrous thing and was beaten for it, the rank and file of the people not then understanding his brave and patriotic stand for them; they understood him now, and a glorious victory awaits the champions of the people in November.

THE TARIFF AND THE FARMER.

A Pennsylvania Democrat writes the Louisville Courier-Journal for information upon the following points:

"1. How does the tariff affect the grain farmers as compared with the cotton growers?"

"2. How are tariff rebates regulated?"

"3. What articles of trade, either produced on this farm or manufactured, can be sold in the English market cheaper than in the American market? I mean American goods."

To these interrogations the Courier-Journal makes full and unrefusable answers as follows:

1. The tariff affects grain farmers and cotton growers alike in this, that it robs both. It is true that there is a tariff on corn, wheat and oats, on the pretense of protecting them; but they need no protection, because they are exported in large quantities and sold in competition with the grain of all other countries. Whenever a commodity can be exported in quantities, it is, because it is produced more cheaply here than it is abroad. In the last fiscal year we exported 157,000,000 bushels of wheat, worth $161,000,000 besides 15,000,000 barrels of flour, worth $55,000,000; also 75,000,000 bushels of corn, worth $41,000,000; and nearly three billion pounds of cotton, worth $258,000,000. We were enabled to do this because these commodities were cheaper in the United States than in the countries to which they were sent; the price abroad, less freight, commission and other charges, being the price realized for them here. It is nonsense to talk of protecting cheap goods against those that are dearer; by the natural laws of trade commodities seek the markets where prices are best. Cotton is on the free list, while wheat is nominally protected by a duty of twenty-five cents a bushel; but cotton is as effectually protected by its cheapness as wheat, and neither is protected by the tariff.

Where the robbery comes in is in the tax on the good which farmers receive for their grain and cotton. We sent abroad last year, in round numbers, $800,000,000 worth of the products of agriculture of all kinds. What did we get in return? Did we get our pay in gold? No; we exported more gold and silver than we imported. We had to take foreign merchandise in exchange, and on all dutiable goods the tariff exacted a duty of nearly 50 per cent. Thus, of the $161,000,000 worth of wheat exported, the farmers, if paid in dutiable goods, would get back only about $110,000,000 worth, the remainder being necessary to pay the duties. It is true that all imports are not dutiable; but it is also true that the farmers pay to domestic manufacturers much higher prices for goods obtained from them than similar goods would cost abroad; so that a reduction of one third from the purchasing power of our agricultural exports does not by any means represent the exaction which the tariff makes of the farmers.

2. When imported material is used in the manufacture of an article, 99 per cent. of the duties paid on such material is refunded when the article is exported.

3. Many agricultural implements, sewing machines and many other articles, are sold abroad at lower prices than at home. This has been denied, but it has been proved beyond question; and some protectionists admit and defend it as entirely proper. The rebate of duties on imported material contributes to render this possible; but it also happens in the case of articles on which no rebate is paid, because high tariffs enable the manufacturer to exact excessive profits at home, while abroad, where the tariff gives him no advantage, he is compelled to take a reasonable profit.

Why Weaver Retires.

The following editorial on this subject appeared in the Atlanta Constitution of last Sunday: "General Weaver has retired from the campaign in Georgia, leaving several dates to be filled, and disappointing large numbers of Democrats who are anxious to exhibit their enthusiasm. The excuse which General Weaver gives for refusing to visit the points where he has been advertised to speak is plausible enough under the circumstances, but it is far from being the true one.

The real trouble with General Weaver, and the true reason why he has canceled his engagements, to Georgia and other Southern States is that he has been made a victim of a gross deception. We do not know who is responsible for this, but it is unquestionably the fact that General Weaver came to Georgia firmly believing that the woods were fairly swarming with third party people, and that all that was necessary to get them in shape for sweeping the State was a few resounding stump orations.

But what are the facts? In Ware county, of which Waycross is the capital, there are not more than twenty-five third party men—certainly not enough to give General Weaver a sympathetic audience. Yet he was advertised to speak at Waycross by the third party managers, and did speak there. He spoke at Albany, and yet there are not half a dozen third party voters in Dougherty county. There is, proportionately, the same state of affairs wherever General Weaver has appeared in Georgia. It is, true, there have been some very disagreeable examples of hoodlumism at some of the meetings, and for these there is no excuse whatever; but the main trouble—the central difficulty—has been the fact that the audiences General Weaver has been compelled to face were not only unsympathetic but overwhelmingly antagonistic, and no public speaker or candidate for office can go through such an experience with any degree of comfort or satisfaction. We have no doubt that word went forth to General Weaver from Georgia that the Third party was strong and vigorous here, and that all it needed here to emphasize its vitality was a little coaching here and there from the Presidential candidate. General Weaver's retirement shows that his eyes are open to the true situation. The bottom had fell out of the third party movement before he responded to the call of the third party leaders here. Whether these leaders have deceived themselves, or whether they really understood the situation in Georgia, we will not pretend to say, but we do know that their presidential candidate has no longer any doubt about it. Whatever criticism he has to make should fall on the leaders who have entrapped him into making a barren and unnecessary campaign in a quarter where the Third party had no strength at all.

One of the characteristics of the people of Georgia is the conservatism that is the result of common sense. This characteristic shows itself in a thousand different directions, in their enterprises, in their society, literature—which is peculiarly and distinctly their own—and in their politics. In common with the people of the whole country they have suffered from the disastrous results of Republican class legislation, but nothing could be more foolish or futile than the idea that they will turn on them selves, their wives and their children and on their best interests, merely because they have been unable to secure the repeal of the vicious laws enacted by the Republicans.

The farmers of Georgia have done a good deal of grumbling, and the Constitution has helped them to do it, but the idea of dividing the Democratic and pro-seceding party that has oppressed them never entered their minds. The consequence is that the third party really meant, the bottom fell completely out of the movement."
